MEDIA ADVISORY

National Academy of Public Administration Holds Annual Fall Meeting, Celebrating 50th Anniversary Meeting to Focus on “Governing Across The Divide”

WASHINGTON, DC – The National Academy of Public Administration will hold its annual Fall Meeting on November 15-17, focusing on “Governing Across The Divide” and celebrating the Academy’s 50th Anniversary.

The Fall Meeting will focus on findings from the Academy’s four-part Governing Across The Divide series, which included forums in partnership with the University of Southern California’s Sol Price School of Public Policy; the University of Texas at Austin’s LBJ School of Public Affairs; Syracuse University’s Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs; and George Mason University’s Schar School of Policy and Government.

On November 15, the Academy will hold a book discussion event on The Puzzle of the American Economy, authored by Academy Fellow Mark Pisano, at its Washington, DC headquarters.

Keynote speakers during the Fall Meeting include Tim Horne, Acting Administrator of the General Services Administration and Federal Transition Coordinator, who will deliver the Elmer B. Staats Lecture on November 16; and Katherine Gehl and Michael E. Porter, the Bishop William Lawrence University Professor at Harvard Business School, Harvard University, who will deliver the James E. Webb Lecture on November 17.

The induction of the Academy’s 2017 class of Fellows, and the presentation of the Herbert Roback Scholarship Award and the George Graham Award for Exceptional Service to the Academy, also will take place during the Fall Meeting.
